Nope, no call. Unfortunately, the officiating was very poor last night.

I think he got a cut on the bridge of his nose from that too.

Hey. I thought this was about the best eye gouge picture ever. The guys at SI.com agreed.

It kind of does...some photoshopping on those fingers...maybe?

I noticed that FoxSports is doing a "Write Your Own Caption" for this exact picture.

Most of the submissions are pretty lame, so I had to add my own. It's a pain in the ute to sign up for though.

Anyone here got a witty title for it?

My brother texted Tavernari after he saw the picture and JT said that it did in fact happened as pictured, so no photoshopping. Somehow he escaped injury as his eyes are fine.

Probably all the redirects from SI and ESPN.

Aaaah, got it.

it just seemed like a huge #. for a post that's only been around for a short while.
