

---

CBSSportsline agrees as Rivals.com for the ranking

Posted by DeafBYUSports - 2008/01/16 14:04

---

for BYU.

Here is the link:

<http://www.sportsline.com/collegefootball/story/10578831>

=====

Re:CBSSportsline agrees as Rivals.com for the rank

Posted by Mars - 2008/01/17 23:14

---

DeafBYUSports wrote:

<http://www.sportsline.com/collegefootball/story/10578831>

14.

BYU

Bronco Mendenhall has quietly won 22 games (including two bowl games) the past two seasons. With 10 starters back on offense, the Cougars are the early favorite to reach the Orange Bowl as the latest non-BCS entry. Mendenhall has won three of his last four against BCS-conference teams.

Why here? Big guys, back from missions on the offensive line. Experienced quarterback. Typical BYU.

Defining game(s): Sept. 6 at Washington, Sept. 13 vs. UCLA

24. Fresno State: The Bulldogs certainly have the schedule to make an Orange Bowl run -- or finish 5-7. They start out with UCLA, Kansas State and Wisconsin. Pat Hill has won nine games four times since 2002. Make it five in 2008 with a WAC title to go along. Why here? Fifteen returning starters. Watch for the return of 2006 leading receiver Chastin West and '07 leading rusher Ryan Mathews. Defining game: TBA vs. Boise State

Receiving votes: Boise State

=====