As long as I'm bumping out the shoe guy, I might as well toss in some throwback info. Anyone know if Fowler has plans to play this year? I know he got a great LSAT score (in the low-mid 170's) and was accepted to Duke.

Now I can use my dominance to sell something to all these suckers on CB. Let's see, what is something that everyone needs and that I can sell at reduced prices? Maybe socks?

So, he didn't get married after all, huh?

Hmmm...that's pretty funny considering I was sure I heard that he was engaged to my orthodontist's sister-in-law.

Fowler is married and will be going to law school. He can complete a year at BYU then transfer or hang up his cleats, to my knowledge he hasn't decided yet.

Did you know byucougars.com has two Kellen Fowlers listed on the all-time roster list?

He'll play next year. Who the heck brought this thread up anyway? :)
