
Plaisted\'s Dunks. Pictures please.

Posted by allcoug - 2008/02/16 22:46

After one of the earlier home games this year Trent was walking out to ring the victory bell while talking to some BYU media guy. I overheard Trent complain that BYU has never gotten any good pictures of his dunks while at BYU. After thinking about this, I have to agree with Trent. The one that comes to mind is the one-handed ally-oop jam he made at CSU last year. So here's a call to all who have access to a Trent Plaisted "dunk" picture - please post them here for all to see. Maybe after we collect them here we can have them forwarded to Trent.

Pictures please...

Here's a sweet picture. I'm not sure which game it is from. I'm thinking either Lamar or Hartford. Any help?...

Hooks14, I promise you karma when I get some back.

The expression of awe and terror in the face of #24 could not easily be described in words. The picture is great.

Thanks for the gesture, but I really could care less about karma--I rarely post.

How do I post a picture from my computer (not from a website)?

I figured that since Plaisted is lacking in quality dunking pictures, we would just have to make him one. Here's my attempt (old-school, of course):

Just browse for the picture in the tool-bar under the "Message" box when posting.

I remember earlier in the year when that picture was posted someone said that they were at the game and Trent actually missed that dunk?

Not only did he miss, he got called for an offensive foul, although it's pretty obvious that defender's not set.

Oh, thanks. I thought there was more to it, and I kept previewing it and it wouldn't come up, but I guess it just doesn't show the image on the preview.

Anyway, check out the BYU photographers' slide show from last night's game at photo.byu.edu. Here's an excerpt:

Sick shots Yndian. Karma to you.

The dunk on CSU last year was by far his best dunk. There was a clip of it somewhere, but it was taken far back so you don't get to see exactly how awesome it was.

If Trent wants more pictures of his dunks...he should dunk it more. ;)

Gunk, that was funny. ;)

I am watching the replay of the game and am very impressed with Fredette's passing skills as well as Tavernari's. That behind the back bounce pass to Cumnard as he cuts down the lane was the sweetest pass I've seen all season by the Cougs. Then, the feeds by Fredette to Plaisted for the alley oop and later dunks were sweeeeeet.

But that pass by Tavernari left me speechless. Where has that been all season?!!!

I'm a huge fan of this one... nothing like a good posterizing play right before the dunk.
