
BYU Basketball #26 in USA today poll.

#26 seems like a good place for the cougars to be, this way they make a debut at the top twenty five next week and can start moving up for the committee to see.

If BYU wins out (not likely), than what would our seed be? If we could be a 5th seed that would be amazing. Current Bracketologists seem to have us at 7th, which makes for a second round matchup against a 2 seed. If we go as high as 4th or 5th, making it to the sweet sixteen would be a real possibility.

It was easy to get distracted back when BYU was losing (WF, Boise, UNLV), but now I am sucked right back in. Boise isn't a great looking loss, but at least it isn't Lamar. Boise sits at the top of the WAC with 19 wins. If they make the tourney, this will make the loss look more respectable as well.
