Wasn't planning on it, I'll be at the BYU-Stanford volleyball match, but I think Butler and Tennessee will both win fairly convincingly.

The game is at Memphis, and Vegas has the Tigers favored by 6 points.

#16 Drake leads at #8 Butler at halftime, 38-35.

Drake won, neither looked very good and neither could rebound. I'd give 7 points and take BYU vs either on a neutral court.

Im gonna DVR Memphis Tennessee. Thats gonna be a GREAT game. They both play a similar style but I think Memphis has the advantage because they are better up front. If Dorsey plays like he should Tennessee is gonna have problems. Either way the real winners are college basketball fans all over the country.

I don't know if Tennessee deserves to be #2 or if the voters just bumped them up for this game. They tend to do that, and that's kind of my view with this one.

I'm watching tenn memphis right now. As i watch this all I can think of is how much i dislike memphis. No doubt their good, but I just can't stand them.

By the way, does anyone have any good links to where I can watch the game tonight on CSTV online for free?

i also want to mention that I'm giddy as a school girl today because I got to go to Cameron Indoor Stadium and watch Duke play today. That place is amazing and has the best atmosphere i've ever watched a game in

It is on ESPN TV station right now. Or you can check the ESPN web site for scoreboard with Gamecast.
