We didn't get a big turn out last time (and it was bitter cold) so we called it off. Anyone interested this weekend?

definitely interested, We should try to get 10 firm commits before saturday (wow, that sounded like something a missionary would say for a second . . . scary :-).

8:00 am is start time. However I'm not sure we have enough commits yet to schedule for sure. Sounds like we're up to about 6-8, we really need a minimum of 10-12.

I can be there. Count me as a commit if you are counting for tomorrow.

with YZAZZ that's only 7, not quite enough, so it looks like it's off for tomorrow . . . , I'll check back again later tonight to see if we have any late commits, but if we don't get any more I'm not going to drive all the way out there . . .
