
Haws

Hey, What is the latest word on Haws? I keep hearing he's already buds with the Utah coach and is a sure thing for them.

Haws will either leave the state or play at BYU, Utah is not even close to an option. Go troll somewhere else. I'd say he's 85% headed to the Y; it's too natural of a fit and his dad loves hoops too much to watch him on TV when he could see him live all the time.

I honestly think this is all posturing to get Tyler a McDonalds all america spot, which he would risk losing by committing to BYU too soon.

And.... A Haws playing at the U would be like Steve Youngs kids at the U. He's coming to BYU.

You nailed it Craig. Spot on. I have nothing to add.

Except... if he doesn't pick BYU, it would be cool to see him as a Demon Deacon.

There is a sister in our ward that is like the 3rd cousin to Marty Haws. Her maiden name is Haws!

I've got her on a mission to get the down and dirty on Tyler.

Back soon with the scoop...

Sadly, I've heard the same rumor about Tyler going to Utah. Right now I'd say 60/40 or 50/50 BYU/Utah, if he stays in-state.

Just curious but where are people hearing these rumors of Haws going to Utah?

Now that is a program I would want to play for. It is going to take several years to get that program back to what it once was and I am not even sure that will happen..

Thanks for the info. I felt it was a legitimate question because it was the DJ and PK radio show that acted like Haws was very friendly with the Utah coach.

Haws will not attend Utah; you don't know Marty at all if you think that.

With DJ being so anti BYU and PK being so biased as to elude almost all credibility, why would anyone believe their bias? I like DJ. I think he is rather intelligent. He says many things that seem reasonable. But his lean away from BYU makes most of his opinions about BYU tainted.

PK is just plain ridiculous. He is not even worth listening to. If I can, I try to listen to someone else. His advertisers need to learn that a lot of people feel that way about him. Controversy is one thing. But idiocy is another.

I think DJ covers his bias pretty well. He really doesn't like BYU, but that's because he is an SDSU fan. Occasionally on their show, the game where BYU dropped 60+ on his beloved Aztecs (back when SDSU was okay) is discussed. I think that is the root of all of his dislike for BYU.

PK is just glad that when he goes to work he doesn't have to deal with Rick Majeras anymore. PK also shows a lot of love to Bronco and Rose. He is probably the most unbiased person in the local sports market. PK really doesn't have a dog in the instate fight, and he genuinely likes all the major coaches.

That is where I got some of my information about Haws and Utah, but there have been a few other sources. I can't vouch for the credibility of these people, but just the amount of people that I am hearing talk about it, and the relative independence of the sources leads me to believe there is something there. I am however adjusting the percentages I gave to be 70/30 BYU over Utah for Haws.

Craig, you're right I don't know Marty very well, although I have played basketball against him here in Alpine. (By the way he is still very good) That is why I come to this board, to get better insight. As far as DJ and PK, I think it is interesting that Ute fans think DJ and PK are biased and we Cougar fans also think they are biased. I think if you're a sportscaster you can't win. :unsure:

I don't really think DJ or PK are biased I just think that PK is a moron. He thinks he is funny and spends the majority of his airtime trying to convince everyone else to love him as much as he loves himself. I love DJ but can't stomach PK. The only way I can vote is to change the station which I did several months back. I find that my general sports outlook is much happier now.

The ACC maybe, BYU good chance, Utah zero chance (window dressing)

from what i have been hearing, it's stanford, then byu, for now. that could all change if duke offers.

If I was Haws and Stanford offered, I'd jump on that without a second thought. Great school. Good basketball program. It's a no-brainer.

Dook is on the downslide. Coach K is continuing to devolve into his mentor, Bobby Knight. Great in the early years, but slowly losing his coaching ability and his mind. At least Knight has a great sense of humor to redeem him, though.

I think DJ and PK (mostly PK) just like to rile people up. It's pretty funny if you get the joke and you understand that neither one of them really cares about BYU or Utah they can be pretty entertaining to listen to. If you ever think PK is serious though, you don't have very good sarcasm ears.

When PK covers BYU football though, he is the best source of reporting unbiased info. You just have to be able to tell the difference between when he is reporting or interviewing, and when he is just trying to piss people off.
