
TCU gets new coach

Posted by scott715 - 2008/03/29 20:32

http://sports.yahoo.com/ncaab/news;_ylt=AhoOD0ghYYz6DWMQUIQ9dKYOvbYF?slug=ap-tcu-christian&prov=ap&type=lgns

Hired Kent State coach. Hopefully this will upgrade their program.

=====

Re:TCU gets new coach

Posted by kenj - 2008/03/30 08:18

I like having a home game in Texas. It would be nice to win another football game there this year. go Cougs

=====

Re:TCU gets new coach

Posted by nuk13 - 2008/03/30 09:11

I apologise for using this thread but as long as I've been on here I do not know how to start one.

I read the article about Rose being optimistic about next year. I might be too if I knew more about some of next years players, especially Hartsock. All I know is he is presently on a mission and I think he's a forward. Does he give us any reason for optimism?

I see J. Emery giving a boost to the defense. I think he could replace J T when he starts launching 3s. He does have offensive upside too. Abouo is said to be a bigger stronger Mike Hall. If that is so and these 2 have mental toughness then I can be optimistic.

I also feel that Miles, for one, will step up next year so even if Plaistead leaves we will have a defensive presence under the boards.

Thanks for any input and again, apologies for doing it this way.

=====

Re:TCU gets new coach

Posted by scott715 - 2008/03/30 21:35

Coach Rose says that they still have one scholarship to give. It would be great if there is a steal out there that could help the team.

=====