Does it bother anyone else that it is the third year in a row that we have TCU on a short week? Why not give us UNLV on a short week?

Can't wait! Interesting that we just get 1 cbs cs showing, UNLV gets 3! And I would have thought that our game with Utah would have been picked up by a bigger dog. Could be a battle of unbeatens...

Now that the MTN will be on DirecTV, it might be the best option for getting the game into the most homes. If, in fact, the MTN is on the basic package, that puts it into every DTV home. That is better exposure than VS or CBSCS, and eliminates the hassle for those of us who move between packages to get the games.

The quality of the broadcast is a different animal however....

The odds of us being on a basic package on DirecTV in my mind is pretty unlikely. I would guess it would be on the same tier as CBS CS.

Overall the schedule is pretty interesting. I don't mind having a bye before the USU game-it will be like 2 byes in a row. Also, I think we have an extremely fortunate stretch leading up to the Utah game. After the TCU game, we'll have a couple extra days to heal up as we go into that stretch: UNLV, @ CSU, SDSU, @ AFA. I'm glad they moved TCU and Wyoming back to the front of the schedule.

Is it August yet?

No kidding!!!! The other thing that bothers me is that we have San Diego State for our last home game(Senior Day). Why not have New Mexico, who is much more likely to beat us than the Aztecs, on Senior Day? You know we are pumped up the last home game for the Seniors.

Maybe I am a little anal but I think I have a point.

Of course they moved Wyoming up. The game is at BYU. The schedulers are POS.:angry: Of course we get TCU on a short week. Again POS.:silly: But the great thing is when we kick their butts. :laugh: :laugh: WE get the last laugh. Go Cougs

Ouch....I just looked and saw the opening day match-up of TCU and UNM. That is not a fun way to start the season-- opening against a upper-tier conference team.
