If you haven't seen this, it's an interesting take on Beck's circumstances in Miami.

thanks for the link. Great article. I hope John gets his chance--to succeed or fail, but at least give him a legitimate chance.

As a huge Miami Dolphins fan for the last 25 (has it really been that long??) years, I am pulling for John to be given the opportunity to be the quarterback I know he can be! Go John!

Great article, thanks. Did the subject of this post make anyone else think of Zoolander:

"They may be looking for us, but what they won't be looking for is...Not Us."

So Miami fans may not get Dan Marino, but what they will get is...Not Dan Marino.

I'm cheering for him. I don't think Parcels is into throughing anyone to the dogs. I believe he will get his chance to shine, Didn't make me think of that... but only because I don't remember a thing about that movie. ;)

Thanks for the link!
