
Radio Interview With John Beck

Posted by cougarfan87 - 2008/04/28 13:25

Thought you might enjoy this little tidbit. John talks about how his low release was caused by a shoulder injury his sophomore year, and raising the release point is actually more comfortable for him. He also gives his thoughts about Jake Long and talks about working out with Ted Ginn.

Enjoy. It is number 6 (at least at the time I posted it).

<http://www.wqam.com/index.php?page=347>

=====

Re:Radio Interview With John Beck

Posted by rackem - 2008/04/28 13:40

Good find!

I love to hear a positive guy talk football. Beck raises the bar.

=====

Re:Radio Interview With John Beck

Posted by craigoscarsen - 2008/04/28 13:55

Whether or not John stars for the Dolphins in the future or not; he's a pro and should have a long career drawing checks in the NFL.

He gets it, just like Ty got it.

=====

Re:Radio Interview With John Beck

Posted by dloug - 2008/04/28 22:05

That's a pretty impressive interview. He sounded smart, confident, and genuinely excited about the possibilities for next season. I know it's before he knew that they picked Henne, but I don't think it would have mattered had he known. He talked like he was the starter. That's what Miami needs: someone who knows they can be a starter, not just someone who "fills in" while they find the guy who believes.

=====