Y gets new football travel truck

Drive by the west car park by the stadium, the football team just updated the equipment team with a new larger truck completely barraged with Tradition, Spirit, Honor on one side under tons of Y players, the other side decorated with a huge Y and Y flag as the team charges on the field, and the best part is the back that says BYU 84 nat'l champs and has a long list of every single conf. championship (including 07) and all our bowl games, underneath the bottom it said champions. the front has a large Y above the windows and keep an eye out for it...if your bothered that is.

If Vegas bowl money can buy trucks imagine what BcS money can buy

I am sorry for hijacking the thread for a second, but is it wrong of me if I giggle a little inside when I see "flippin'" or "fetch" on a message board...it just really gets to some sort of primeval instinct I have in me to laugh childishly...or somethin'..silly:

Just like I have the tendency to quote movies, Napoleon Dynamite being one of them.

If you like their truck, you'll love their team bus. It comes complete with escorts.

Tricky BYU.

It is new-the old one isn't as big and didn't have a side door entrance, not too mention that they spent all day in the parking lot practicing various parking and maneuvering positions. It's bigger, cooler, and even the cab is new

LOL, but I am pretty sure this is NOT THE Yewtah truck--close resemblance to be sure, but THE yewtah truck would have one or more players and coaches thrown underneath it by the fans, KWitt etc...;)

Interestingly the football field has also become noticeably different, it has been mowed in circular patterns, unlike alabama's that starts from the center, but is a wave-circular pattern beginning at the south-east endzone, i just ignored it for a while, but it's the 3rd week as of today that they've kept the interesting pattern
