That is terrible news. Rhiannon brought new life to BYU news coverage.

She's been my favorite writer over the last year.

I have migraines too, but no more than I had when I lived in SoCal. I found it interesting and worrisome when she said the doctors told her that her heart couldn't stand many more migraines. Anyone know what the connection is?

By far the best BYU blogging sportswriter we've had in a while. She will be missed.
