NCAA Football 09

For all of you who are not only interested in the actual season, but also the virtual season, kickoff is July 15th. One of the new features in this game is the ability to upload custom stadium sounds after important plays. So, I've got a few figured out, but I need help in other situations.

These are the options:

FG is Successful - Rise and Shout

PAT - Rise and Shout

2 Pt Conversion - Rise and Shout

Touchdown - Rise and Shout

Safety -

Defense on 3rd Down -

Defense on 4th Down -

Kickoff - Chant: "OOOOHHHH"

Timeout Home -

Timeout Visitor -

Start of 3rd quarter -

TFL/Sack -

Defensive Stop on 3rd down - Darth Vader March (I know some nerd will correct me, but this is what I know it as.)

Defensive Stop on 4th down -

Turnover -

Defense takes field after Kick Return -

3rd Down Conversion is Successful -

4th Down Conversion is Successful -

1st Down Conversion on 1st or 2nd Down -

FG Miss by Opponent -

Challenged Play -

Start of 4th Quarter - Blur "Song 2"

Penalty on Away Team -

Other Often Played Sounds -

Don't forget about "Since you've been gone" by Kelly Clarkson and "Soak up the Sun" by Sheryl Crow. If only there was a way to also download the sound of 20,000 men throwing up.

Can you add popcorn poppin???) The jaws theme is good once in a while as well.

Is it coming out on the Wii?

I think you mean "Since U been gone":ohmy: Also, if you can get soak up the sun and that offspring song in the band version, that will be more authentic, even if it does make you want to tear your ears off.:dry:

HaHa. I remember taking a video on my phone at one of the games of some collar popping tool singing his lungs out to Since you've been gone. It was a moment that need to be documented to hopefully show the world how stupid someone can possibly look.

I thought about popcorn popping, but I don't know when that would play, but good call on the Jaws theme. And I'm going to try and avoid Since you've been gone and soak up the sun, as those are the worst of the songs that are played. I was also thinking if I could find "the middle" by Jimmy Eat World played by the band, that would be a good fit for the start of the third. And yes it is coming out for the Wii, but it won't have this feature.

so as part as the fully invested idea, does that give me the moral obligation of forcefully removing anyone/everyone singing, wearing tons of perfume/cologne/pink, green, yellow, red, brown, orange, rainbow colored popped collar, flip-flopped $%*#@'s?

I used to hate the term "zoobies", then I transfered to BYU and met a bunch of them.

Four are there. One is really hard to see.
