
Broadcast?

Posted by PhasiBone - 2004/12/03 20:03

Anybody knows where they will be showing our game tomorrow? I see it's listed at both FSN and FSN2. Confusing.

=====

Broadcast?

Posted by SpiffCoug - 2004/12/03 21:23

Apparently there are two FSN in Southern California. So the FSN2 is for there. But yeah, it is confusing. I'm still not sure if it'll be on in Ut.

=====

Broadcast?

Posted by Nor_Cal_Coug - 2004/12/03 21:55

From what I found it is only on in the southern california market. I looked into it and I have dish and live in Northern Cal and can't get it.

=====

Broadcast?

Posted by PhasiBone - 2004/12/03 23:50

Thanks. That's what I thought. Here is another flop by our athletic department. Somebody was crazy enough to compile a schedule like this, but if we keep losing and nobody can't even see the games to realize we are not as bad as our record, then who will come to the Marriott Center to see the team that started 2-4? Or worst, 1-5? I know Freddie and Cecil will be there as usual, but will we even have more than 10,000 against BSU?

Come on, we will listen to it on a radio, but how many people will actually do the same? They could at least show it locally. Unbelievable.

Maybe there are reasons why Van Hale was fired.

=====

Broadcast?

Posted by qman - 2004/12/04 10:11

I don't know we played pretty poorly at USU. I hope Cleveland was able to get the guys to run a better offense.

=====